

City of Redmond Planning Commission January 28, 2004 Meeting Summary

Planning Commissioners in Attendance:

Gordon Bluechel, Kate Dunn, Charlie McCarthy, Sue Petitpas, Korby Parnell, and Martin Snodgrass

Staff in Attendance:

Terry Marpert, Terry Shirk, Lori Peckol from the Redmond Planning Department

Business Conducted:

Chair Martin Snodgrass called the meeting to order at 7:02 p.m.

The agenda was approved.

Under items from the audience, Nancy Bainbridge Rogers, submitted a letter to the Planning Commission that addressed the proposal to allow housing in the Manufacturing Park zone.

Chair Snodgrass then opened the study session on proposed changes to the sign code. Deborah Ferris spoke to the commission about what the proposed changes were, and the reason for the changes to the sign code. The commissioners asked questions of Ms. Farris concerning the application of the recommended changes.

The study session on the proposal to allow housing in the Manufacturing Park zone was opened by Mr. Snodgrass. Terry Shirk described the proposed change, stating that this was in response to a Development Guide Amendment made by the owners of the Taylor property in Southeast Redmond. The commissioners discussed the issue with Ms. Shirk and Kevin Taylor. There were two motions made to resolve the issue, but both failed. Ms Shirk agreed to draft several motions for the next meeting, describing a range of actions that the commission could take to resolve this issue.

Mr. Marpert reviewed the commission's extended agenda.

The meeting was adjourned at 10:00 p.m.

Staff reported on the presentation to the City Council by Jim Charlier, and the meeting next week with the boards and commissions.

The meeting was adjourned at 9:55 p.m.
